CAUSES OF ANTIMICROBIAL RESISTANCE

Shrabasti Bandyopadhyay, M.Sc.

Antimicrobial resistance, a global crisis arises due to some major and incautious reasons.

Overuse of antimicrobials

Inappropriate prescribing

Patients are prescribed unnecessarily large amounts of antimicrobials therapy. Consumption has been increased in Pharmaceutical companies due to use of very low level of antimicrobials.

Fig. 1. Antibiotic prescriptions in different districts in Durgam Chanda et al., 2019.

Nonavailability of novel antimicrobials

The creation of new antibiotics has fallen down to a very low level due to economic and regulatory issues. The improper use of antibiotics present a major problem to the availability of new antibiotics day-by-day.

Fig. 2. Decline in the number of antibiotic approvals from 2000 to 2018.

Examples:

- Penicillin resistant Enterococci
- Methicillin resistant Staphylococcus aureus (MRSA)
- Vancomycin resistant Enterococci (VRE)
- Multi-drug resistant Mycobacterium tuberculosis (MDR-TB)
- Colistin-resistant Enterobacteriaceae (CRE) gram bacteria

Excessive use in agricultural field

Usage of antibiotics in livestock are discharged in field through urine, stool and excretion of resistant bacteria like plasmids. Antibiotics given to food-producing animals as supplements enter the human body during consumption leading to the development of latent diseases.

Fig. 2. Usage of antibiotics in livestock preparation.

Mechanism of antimicrobial resistance

Fig. 4. Bacteria employ different mechanism to become resistant against antibiotics (Johnson et al., 2019).

Non-completion of antibiotic dose

If the proper dose of prescribed antibiotic is not completed, some resistant organisms may survive. Therefore, the second use of the same antibiotic will not be effective.

Superbugs: Microbes having higher mortality and morbidity rate due to mutations provide resistance to many antimicrobials. Many human pathogens have converted into MDR types due to excessive use of antibiotics such as Acinetobacter baumannii.

... The global burden of infections resistant to existing antimicrobial medicines is growing at an alarming pace ...

ANTIMICROBIAL RESISTANCE : A GLOBAL HEALTH THREAT

INTRODUCTION

Antibiotic resistance is when the organisms such as bacteria, fungi, viruses and parasites resist the effects of drugs making the infection difficult and harder to treat which ultimately results in the increase of disease spread, which causes severe illness and death.

Antimicrobial resistance (AMR) became in the last two decades a global threat to public health systems in the world. Since the antibiotic era, with the discovery of the first antibiotics that provided consistent health benefits to human medicine, the misuse and abuse of antimicrobials in veterinary and human medicine has accelerated the growing worldwide phenomenon of AMR.

The ways of responding to the AMR challenges foresee an array of measures that include: designing more effective preventive measures at farm level to reduce the use of antimicrobials; development of novel antimicrobials; strengthening of AMR surveillance system in animal and human populations; better knowledge of the ecology of resistant bacteria and resistant genes; increased awareness of stakeholders on the prudent use of antibiotics in animal productions and clinical arena and the public health and environmental consequences of AMR.

SPREAD Resistor bacteria can spread to...

EXPOSURE People can get ill with resistor viruses from...

CONCLUSION

Antibiotic resistance has been recognized as a global health problem and considered by major health organizations as the top health challenge in the 21st century.

However one of the main critical factors that affect the correct estimate of the magnitude and extension of the problem for both people and animals worldwide and the effective management, is related to the scarcity of data on types of antibiotics used, amounts, animal species and ways they are used.

ANTIMICROBIAL RESISTANCE: A GLOBAL HEALTH THREAT

DEBASHMITA MANDAL, REDHANNAGAR COLLEGE

Micro-organisms are termed as "antimicrobial-resistant" or "drug resistant" when they are no longer inhibited by an antimicrobial drug to which they were previously sensitive.

What is Antimicrobial Resistance?

Urgent threat:

- Carbapenem resistant Acinetobacter
- Candida auris
- Drug resistant Neisseria gonorrhoeae

Serious threats:

- Drug resistant Candida
- MRSA
- Drug resistant Mycobacterium tuberculosis
- Multi drug resistant Pseudomonas aeruginosa

Healthcare Facility Drug-Resistant Infections Set To Skyrocket

Above picture shows that, drug resistant infections are increased very rapidly and they could cost the global economy as much as $100 trillion by 2050. Drug resistance infections kill more people than cancer in just over three decades.

> So it is the correct time to take drastic actions to tackle the problem.

By 2050 One person could die every 3 min if AMR is not tackled now.

◆ The cost of AMR to national economic and their health system is significant as it affects productivity of patients through prolonged hospital stay.

◆ It needs more expensive and intensive care which everyone can't afford.

◆ Resistance to antimicrobial agent has become a major source of morbidity and mortality worldwide.

Causes of Antimicrobial resistance

Shravya Majumdar, St. Xavier's College

Target alteration

a. Mutation of natural target
The amino acid composition and conformation of the target for a drug can change.
e.g. Resistance to fluoroquinolones due to mutations in DNA gyrase or topoisomerase IV (the targets of fluoroquinolone).

b. Production of low affinity variant
The target has a low affinity to bind the drug.
e.g. Staphylococcal resistance to methicillin is caused by production of low affinity variant of penicillin binding protein.

Failure of drug to reach target

a. Decreased penetration
b. Increased efflux through pumps

Drug is not active

a. Enzymatic inactivation
The most common way resistance develops to penicillin is through inactivation by Beta lactamases (penicillinase).

b. The bacteria will not convert the prodrug to an active form, e.g. isoniazid resistance - mutation in mycobacterial catalase-peroxidase - prodrug isoniazid is not activated

Bypassing of inhibited metabolic pathway

Alternate metabolic pathways to those inhibited by the antibiotic can overcome the block in the synthesis of an essential metabolite in bacteria caused by the drug leading to resistance. e.g. Trimethoprim.

Report of the Seminar titled
An Emergent Area of Mathematics
held on
10 May 2023, Wednesday

The departmental seminar started at 11 AM, organized by the Department of Mathematics, Sammilani Mahavidyalaya in collaboration with the Department of Mathematics, KK Das College. The departmental teachers of both the colleges and about 40 students attended the seminar. Dr. Sharmila Chakraborty, Teacher-in-charge, Sammilani Mahavidyalaya welcomed all the delegates and the students of both colleges.

Then Dr. R. P. Chakraborty, Principal, KK Das College, delivered the keynote address. Dr. Sumita Das, Head, Department of Mathematics introduced the speaker of the day, Prof. Kallol Pal, Department of Mathematics, Jadavpur University and also the government nominee to the governing body of Sammilani Mahavidyalaya.

The technical session was chaired by, Dr. Ramkrishna Prasad Chakraborty, Principal, KK Das College.

After the introduction, Prof. Pal, in his seminar lecture, discussed about the nature of continuity of different real valued functions on the set of real numbers. He considered the set of points of continuity as well as set of discontinuity of various functions like polynomial functions, exponential functions and trigonometrical functions on a subset of real numbers. By using different examples, it is shown that the set of points of discontinuity may be finite, countable infinite, whole of  $\mathbb{Q}$  or whole of the set of real numbers. In connection to these, Baire's theorem was discussed thoroughly by the speaker.

Students of both the colleges took interest and enjoyed the discussion very much. The interactive session between the speaker and the students went on for more than 40 minutes. After the session has ended, a feedback form was given to the students (about 40 in number) to ascertain their interests. This will help to improve the quality of such programmes in future.

The seminar ended with a vote of thanks by Dr. Malay Ray, Department of Mathematics, Sammilani Mahavidyalaya.

Report on the 3 days training programme entitled

“Series of Special Lectures on Some areas of Advanced Mathematics in Undergraduate Level”

Jointly organized by

Departments of Mathematics, Sammilani Mahavidyalaya and K.K. Das College, Garia (Under MOU)

Day 1, 17 April 2021

The first day of the lecture series began with the Inaugural Session at 10 am. Dr. S. Palchadhuri, Principal, Sammilani Mahavidyalaya delivered the welcome lecture for all participants and delegates. Then Dr. R.P. Chakraborty, Principal, K.K. Das College, introduced the speaker of the day Prof. S. K. Acharyya Ex. Professor, Department of Pure Mathematics, Calcutta University and his topic was “An introduction to Metric space”. Dr. Sumita Das, Head, Department of Mathematics, Sammilani Mahavidyalaya said that Metric Space and Topology has been introduced in the 6th semester of UG syllabus under CBCS system, so it is the high time to organize such type of seminar by resource persons so that the students get a preliminary idea of the importance of the topics. After that Prof. Acharyya delivered an extensive lecture by power point presentation starting from definitions, examples, properties, theorems on metric space and extended up to Banach fixed point theorem. Students were very motivated and in the interactive session they took active part.

Day 2, 18 April 2021

In the beginning, Dr. Nashima Munshi, Head, Department of Mathematics, and Coordinator of IQAC, K.K. Das College introduced the speaker, Prof. Malay Banerjee, Department of Mathematics and Statistics, IIT, Kanpur and his topic was “Legendre equation and Legendre polynomials – derivation and application”. The speaker delivered a mind blowing lecture for 2 hours in the field and described many applications of this type of polynomial in various interdisciplinary fields like Physics, Computer Science etc. There was again an interactive session in which students were able to clear their doubts regarding the lecture.

Day 3, 19 April 2021

In the third and final day, the eminent speaker Prof. M. N. Mukherjee, Ex. Professor, Department of Pure Mathematics, Calcutta University was introduced by Dr. Sumita Das. Then Prof. Mukherjee delivered his valuable lecture entitled “A motivational lecture on Topology and related concepts” by defining Topology and topological space as a generalization of the set of real numbers and metric space, its properties which are nothing but extensive concept of real analysis. Various topological properties like compactness, connectedness and separation axiom were discussed by the speaker. Students enjoyed the speech and in the interactive session they took active role to understand the topic thoroughly.

The Principals and faculties of the department of Mathematics of both the colleges and students from various colleges participated in this program. In the valedictory session, feedback were taken from the participants thorough Google form. The programme ended with vote of thanks by Dr. Malay Ray, Department of Mathematics, Sammilani Mahavidyalaya.

Objective of the Webinar

In the pandemic situation the department of Mathematics, Sammilani Mahavidyalaya & Department of Mathematics, K.K.Das College took the initiative to organize the webinar for the benefit of students. The purpose of such initiation was to enlighten the students with the knowledge shared by the respected speakers and to motivate them to stay positive in life and to concentrate on their studies.

C Programming, Matlab and Sage Math have huge applications in the field of Computational Mathematics and specifically Matlab and Sage Math are newly included in the updated syllabus of C.B.C.S. The aim of the event was to give an overview on these topics to the students and to gain their interest so that they can get the motivation to attain online classes of these courses regularly and able to relate the topics with these wonderful lectures delivered by the honourable speakers.

Report of the Seminar held on 15. 03.2019

Organized by

The Department of Mathematics

The Department of Mathematics of this college arranged a One day Seminar entitled “Fundamental Area of Mathematics” on 15th March, 2019. Actually Analysis and Algebra are two pillars of higher mathematics. So the focus of the seminar is to highlight the basic facts of these areas. The Mathematics honours students along with the Principal and three teaching staff of the neighbouring K. K. Das College also participated in the seminar. The inaugural session of the seminar started with the inaugural song sung by the students of 1st year Mathematics Honours class of the college. In the introductory speech the Principal of the host college appreciated the initiative taken by the Mathematics Department for arranging the seminar.

In technical session 1, Dr. Sanjib Basu, Associate Professor, Bethune College delivered a talk on Basic areas of Real Analysis viz., Least Upper Bound Axiom, full cover, Bolzano-Weirstrass's theorem, Compactness and Heine-Borel theorem and their interrelations etc.

In technical session 2, Dr. Ramkrishna Prasad Chakraborty, Principal, K. K. Das College, enlightened the audience about the basic areas of abstract algebra viz., ordered structures, group, cyclic group, normal sub-group and isomorphism.

The students took active part in the interaction sessions.

In technical session 3, Poster Presentation was held by students of the host college. They presented three posters on ten famous Indian Mathematicians viz., Arayabhatta, Brahmagupta, Ramanujan and others. They also presented a powerpoint presentation in front of the audience.

After that Students of K. K. Das College also presented two posters based on the life and devotion of two world famous Mathematicians, viz. Lagrange and Cauchy in the field of Mathematical Analysis.

The seminar ended with vote of thanks.

Report of the One day Webinar titled
A Journey from Real to Abstract Analysis

held on

29 May 2022, Sunday

The webinar started at 11:30 AM, anchored by Mr. Mohan BSubba, Department of Mathematics, KK Das College. After a warm welcome to all the delegates, students and departmental teachers of both the colleges, Dr. Sharmila Chakraborty, Teacher-in-charge, Sammilani Mahavidyalaya delivered an appreciative speech about the initiative taken by both colleges for organizing such a webinar.

Then Dr. Nasima Munshi, Head, Department of Mathematics and IQAC coordinator, KK Das College spoke about the programmes which are generally held under the Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) between the two colleges. This completed the inaugural session.

In the beginning of the technical session, Dr. Sumita Das, Head, Department of Mathematics, Sammilani Mahavidyalaya introduced the speaker, Dr. Ramkrishna Prasad Chakraborty, Principal, KK Das College, to the delegates and students.

After the introduction, Dr. Chakraborty began his talk in which he started his journey from real numbers of school level and from that real analysis, i.e., real line  $\mathbb{R}$  open intervals in one dimension, open balls in two, three and finite dimension, convergence of sequences, continuity of functions in finite dimensional space, i.e., in metric spaces and more generally in topological spaces. He also emphasized important results in metric spaces which the students already knew in real line.

Before the lecture, a questionnaire in MCQ format, was given to the students to assess their basic knowledge. The students were able to access their scores immediately. Similarly, another MCQ questionnaire was given to the students after the lecture to assess what they have learnt from the lecture. An interaction session was held after the lecture and the queries from the students were attended to.

After the session has ended, a feedback form was given to the students (about 50 in number) to ascertain their interests and problems encountered in this webinar. This will help to improve the quality of such programmes in future.

The webinar ended with a vote of thanks by Dr. Malay Ray, Department of Mathematics, Sammilani Mahavidyalaya.

of Chemistry, Netaji Nagar College for Women named, Dr. Chaitali Bhattacharjee and Charu Chand Hansda delivered a valuable popular lecture to the present audience.

The day's programme ended with a short 'Tree Plantation Ceremony' by the students and teachers of the department.

Abstract of the Speaker 1, Dr. Chaitali Bhattacharjee is given below :

Naturally occurring chromium metals are Cr(0), Cr(III) and Cr (VI). Chromium is a trace metal and must be obtained from diet, deficiency of which can cause diabetes. Chromium is highly valued in industries such as steel making, welding, wood treatment, leather tanning etc. Hexavalent Cr is extremely carcinogenic on inhalation and on exposure to environment. It may also affect respiratory tract, lung, skin etc. Discharge of this toxic Cr(VI) into environment mostly arises from industries (effluents). Microbe mediated mitigation from contaminated soil through biosorption, bioaccumulation, bioleaching, biotransformation etc.

Abstract of the Speaker 2, Charu Chand Hansda is given below :

In our modern life we cannot remain unaffected by our natural environment but for our betterment and long life we can easily follow some things, synthetic methods, procedures which makes sustainable for everything. This is the importance of sustainability in day to day life.

- Things used everyday
- Life style and environment
- Synthesis from natural sources
- Artificial Synthesis
- Synthesis using sustainable methods (Green Synthesis)
- Key of sustainability (Self awareness)
